Chinatown Mid-Autumn Festival

Whether it is the traditions, decorations or food connected with the Mid–Autumn Festival, Chinatown serves up this ancient Chinese festival with a unique modern twist. This year, Chinatown comes alive with lantern-themed decorations that line the streets of Chinatown with their mesmerizing mix of colours. The street stalls will be bustling with a festive bazaar selling an array of goodies such as Mooncakes, Pomelos and Handicrafts. Here are some of the highlights:

Lantern Making Competition

The local Kreta Ayer-Kim Seng Citizens' Consultative Committee will be engaging various groups of youths to create lantern sculptures under the guidance of professional lantern makers. The lanterns will be displayed at Chinatown Point from 31st August to 4th October 2013.
