

On the eve of the Chinese Lunar New Year, before we embark on a new journey of prosperity and good wishes, let us walk down the old streets of Chinatown. Be fascinated by memories of the good old days, found in this area where our ancestors first settled down. There are many historical sites which are preserved that contain endless historical allusions. Do you know that there was once a place in Chinatown named 'Milk Village' ? Do you know the meaning of Telok Ayer and the location of an old hidden well around this area? There is also a 40 meters long wall mural which tell the story of our ancestors and many more interesting facts.

Join us on this journey and retrace the footsteps of our ancestors, let their touching stories be told by our licensed guides.

Last but not least, you will also get to try lunar New Year goodies that unique in Singapore, free of charge!
